‘Education is not just a parcel of books but an interaction with the world, with education and learning.’

MBS International School provides umpteen opportunities to its students to explore and amass unequalled learning prospects. The school joined hands with Gen Next Education to organize a Career Seminar for students of Class X, XI and XII on August 29, 2018. Faculty members and guest speakers from reputed universities from abroad were warmly welcomed by the School Advisor, Ms. Inderjit Kaur.

The delegates, Mr. Girish C. Ballola, CEO and Founder- Gen Next Education/International Knowledge Center, Ms. Bhumi Shah, Manager, College Counseling and Student Support, International Knowledge Center, Ms. Julie Huffman, Assistant Director of International Admission, George Mason University, Ms. Kate Dobson, Assistant Director of International Admission, Indiana University, Indianapolis, Ms. Renee Koerner, Assistant Director, International Recruitment, University of Delaware,

Ms. Anouksha Gardner, International Admission Counsellor, Portland State University, Mr. Patrick Morrison, Assistant Director, University of South Dakota apprised the students, at length, about the various career avenues, conventional courses and unconventional options offered by the institutes, abroad. The Interactive session, which followed, strived to clarify their queries pertaining to admission procedures, scholarships etc. An educative perspective indeed!
