

WORKSHOP BY NAVAL OFFICERS TEAM

Date : 13th October 2014

Venue : Candyfloss Basement

Conducted by: Team of Navy Officers

Attended by : Students of Classes XI & XII

ITL Public School organized a workshop conducted by a team of Navy Officers for students of classes XI & XII on the occasion of Navy Week. The officers conducted an informative workshop on the career prospects available after schooling. The students were shown presentations and videos to give them a glimpse of the Indian Navy. Commander Nalin Mishra acquainted the students about the various branches in the Indian Navy (Aviation, Technical, Ground Duty, Educational Branch). Commander Mayank Jhaharia cleared various doubts of the students and answered all their queries making the session very interactive. Lt. Commander Arunima Jha, who had been in the educational branch for the past 11 years apprised the students that there was scope for not only the science students but also students belonging to the commerce and humanities stream in the Indian Navy. The students enjoyed the workshop thoroughly.
