

ITL Observes World Book Day

"A book is a garden, an orchard, a storehouse, a party, a company by the way, a counsellor, a multitude of counsellors."

ITL observes World Book Day on 23 April, 2021 to pay tribute salute the formidable power of books shaping lives. World Book Day also known as World Book and Copyright Day, or International Day of the Book, is an annual event organised by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) to promote reading, publishing, and copyright. To honour this day a Virtual Author Interaction Session of the ITLeens was held with the prolific writer and speaker Mr. Indranil Mukherjee, a software professional -turned -novelist. On this significant day, ITLeens proudly announced the launching of the Reading Club.:" Book My Story" allowing learners to go in-depth with each book, step in the character's shoes, and thus get enlightened and enriched with literary works .The insightful and interactive session with the author was truly phenomenal wherein the students got useful and profound tips on writing and were encouraged to dive into the profound world of literature.
