Children's Day -- a day dedicated to children -- is observed all over India to celebrate childhood. ITL Public School celebrated Children's Day with gaiety and fervour on 14 November. It was a fun-filled day for the students. This celebration commemorates Jawaharlal Nehru for his affection towards children and faith that education of children could propel the country's progress. The teachers and children remembered Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, our first Prime Minister, and celebrated the love that he had for children.

The teachers made the day special for the little ones, as they had a lot of fun-filled activities lined for them. All the cultural items were organized and performed by the teachers which comprised of a hilarious skit which tickled everyone with its funny dialogues, wit and humour. The melodious song and the rhythmic dance performance left the audience asking for more. The transformation of teachers into small children grabbed the attention of the children as they let their hearts out by laughing loudly. The dance performance by the teachers and children was the show stopper and the most enthralling of all. The experience will always be cherished by the students and they would like to revisit this day in their memory lane.
