

Safer Internet Day: Together for a better Internet - 7 February'2023

Safer Internet Day

Every year on the second day of the second week of February, Safer Internet Day is commemorated with the goal of ensuring a safer and better internet, where every user may use the internet responsibly and without fear of their data being exposed. Today, the day is observed in approximately 15 nations worldwide.

This year, the world commemorates Safer Internet Day for the nineteenth time, with the theme “Together for a better internet” On this unique day, stakeholders from all over the world join forces to make the internet a safer and better place. Additionally, they investigate ways to make the internet a less dangerous place for children and adolescents.

Safer Internet Day is to remind individuals that Internet security is something that requires continual awareness and consideration. It also serves as a reminder that if we do not take necessary safeguards, a variety of negative events might occur on the Internet.

To ensure children are apprised about fact that online safety is very important in this modern era, Safer Internet Day was celebrated in grade III-V and various activities were conducted.

Classes III-V – Poster designing Safer Internet Day

The students created innovative posters depicting their thoughts on how online safety can be achieved using different tips and tricks using coloured sheets, sketch pens and other decorative material.

Therefore, Children should be encouraged to spread the message of cyber awareness for online safety.
