

LITERARY WEEK (JUNIOR WING)

“Think before you speak, read before you think”. – Fran Lebowitz

Creating experiences through the knowledge of literature that help metamorphose young readers for a better living and a healthier tomorrow, the SVISG Literary Week was flagged off on April 24, 2023. Participation of our primary students in exalted spirit to uphold the legacy of great writers and poets was the event's denomination.

Instilling interest in books is the key to nurturing the intellectual growth of learners. To live up to this thought, the event, Book Dragon was organized where students narrated their favourite story books to their peers and also exchanged books with each other.

The enthusiastic students of classes I and II, enacted an excerpt from the Mad Hatter's Tea Party based on the famous novel Alice in Wonderland. The confident narration by the speakers impressed everyone. The event proved to be an ideal platform to showcase the acting and speaking abilities of the learners, honed to perfection.

The young learners of Pre Primary and Pre School made us proud when they confidently participated in the event, Comic Con and assumed the role of their favourite fictional characters.

In accordance with the Literary Week Celebrations, the students of Classes III-V were shown a movie, 'The Berry Best Summer Vacation'. Before the movie started, the importance of engaging creatively during the summer vacation was discussed with students. They were filled with enthusiasm, curiosity and excitement, while clapping and cheering!

The students of classes III-V enhanced their knowledge of G20 when they participated in an ingenious Vocabulary Parade where they displayed a list of words associated with G20 Forum and explained the synonyms to the eager audience. They also participated in an Inter Class Quiz on 'How Well You Know your Books', which witnessed a fervent involvement by our young readers.

A workshop on 'Cartooning' was conducted for Classes IV and V in the school auditorium by Mr Ajit Narayan, a well-known illustrator and cartoonist. Mr. Narayan, in his session, taught the art of humorous drawings, with detailed visual examples. He engaged the participants with a wide variety of practical hands-on exercises designed to develop and strengthen key skills. The students were delighted to receive lot of insider tips and master special techniques that he shared with them. They explored the joy of bringing cartoons to life.

The Junior Wing Literary Week, 2023 witnessed the determined efforts of our young readers and writers to nourish their imagination and intellect by earnestly participating in the array of activities designed for them.
