A great poet, writer, painter, composer and philosopher this great stalwart was also a social reformer who made significant contributions in India’s freedom movement against the British rule.

On this day ITLeens are motivated to reach high for the stars which lie hidden in them and to dream deep, for every dream precedes the goal. On this day ITLeens pay a solemn tribute the system of education envisioned by him and the Visva-Bharati University founded by him in Shantiniketan stands as a testimony. In 1931 he won the Nobel Prize in Literature, the first non-European and the first lyricist to win this. Gurudev’s creations..... always an artistic reflection of the truths and facts of life inspiring us to take flights of fantasy to a world of ecstatic beauty.
