“The more importance we give to skill development, the more competent will be our youth” - PM Shri Narendra Modi

ITL Public School celebrated its annual extravaganza of entrepreneurial skills and talent in the Skill Bazaar, A Start up Initiative for Sustainable Living on Saturday, 4th November 2023.

The Skill Bazaar conspicuously displayed Anthelia – ITL’s own start up initiative which is a testament to ITL’s firm conviction in transformative education that promotes sustainable living and skill development. Starting from 3 products in home utility range in 2016 Anthelia aimed at making a transition from an unhealthy, chemical-based environment to a natural and sustainable lifestyle. Anthelia has now diversified to 14 products that includes a range of personal hygiene and beauty & personal care. The range of Anthelia included We-Safe disinfectant toilet spray, Analgesic bath salt, organic-face serum, face mask and face scrub, Neuralgia pain reliever, Aromatic soap, water based room freshener, Natural floor cleaner, Herbal hand sanitizer, Herbal mosquito repellent. New products added to the hamper this year are detox Kahwa, herbal toothpowder and lotion bars.

With the festive season round the corner, ITLeens have also come together to design eco-friendly items for home decor and furnishings, sustainable and fashionable clothing & accessories crafted by ITLeens only.

In sync with Skill India Mission, the Skill Week was observed in the month of July ,2023 wherein an array of activities was planned and conducted for the students with the aim of equipping them with significant life skills. Students tried their hands on making pottery, fridge magnets, fabric jewellery, papier mâché, fabric toys and embroidery in workshops conducted by distinguished and skilled experts. The Skill Week witnessed its culmination in the Skill Bazaar.

The entire school participated zestfully in the mega event. Students of the primary wing made fridge magnets, coasters exhibiting mandala art decorative wall hangings, beautiful diyas, candles, decorative pots and envelopes. Students of Class 6 made designer cup/ mugs and Newspaper weaving bags. Students of Class 7 embellished wooden coasters with folk art while Class 8 students designed hand crafted jewellery using beautiful and vibrant cloth pieces.

Students of Classes 9 and 10 made hand painted dupattas, cross stitched table mats and batik painting folders. Students of class 11 using the concept of sustainable fashion and leftover fabric made table mats, sling bags, coasters, scrunchies and jewellery.

Millet Cafe was a special attraction this time, the initiative was taken in honour of the International Year of millets, dedicated to encouraging healthy lifestyles, sustainable food choices and agricultural practices and most importantly- mindful eating. The “cafe” not only offered a variety of millet based delicacies but also encouraged students to be entrepreneurs and lead successful and sustainable businesses. Games corner

The Mathematical Games corner offering games like Aim for the target, Rolling Balls, Touch Me Not based on the basic concepts of mathematics like addition, subtraction and probability pulled the crowd.

ITL Candyfloss, i.e the pre-primary wing of ITL also participated in full-fledged manner by crafting planters from delicate plaster of Paris, designing charming jewellery boxes with bamboo sticks and crafted wall hangings from recycled materials, and handmade coasters with intricate Warli art. The teachers and parents together wove a tapestry of crafts, fashioning elegant 'Bandanwars', 'a Rangolis', eco-friendly paper bags, and delightful ice cream stick baskets

The parents marvelled at the innovative creations of their wards and spoke highly about the products in superlative terms. The event is a great platform for ITLLeens to gain hands on experience on different skills so that they emerge as confident individual empowered by life skills. The event reflects not only manifestation of the skill acquired by students but also enables them to gain confidence in production, marketing and overall entrepreneurship skills.
